2. contribute 100% of future contributions to another fund other than the one you've switched your current balance to; or
3. contribute any percentage you decide to the fund you've switched your current balance to and the remaining percentage (so it equals 100%) to another fund.

- If you've switched your current balance above to seven funds, you must allocate your future contributions to these seven funds. You can decide the percentage amount to allocate to each fund. This may mean you contribute 100% to one fund only if you want.
